

THE PHOENIX JOURNAL

St. Elizabeth of the Trinity's School Newspaper

Dear Parents and Students,

Does your student want to have a voice? Do they want to improve their writing skills? Do they want to improve their communication skills? Do they want to build a sense of community and teamwork?

A school newspaper is an excellent way to give students a voice in their school and in their community. It helps them become better writers. It allows them to express their creativity and ideas. It will help sharpen their research skills, hone their editing abilities, and develop workplace skills that will aid them in their future. It will empower them to be critical and thoughtful writers and thinkers.
